FOLEX SHOWCASING INNOVATIVE COATED FACE FILMS FOR ADHESIVE MANUFACTURER INDUSTRY AT LABELEXPO BRUSSELS 2023

Seewen, Schwyz - Folex, leading provider of products for the label manufacturing industry, will demonstrate its range of coated face films, specifically tailored for the adhesive manufacturer industry, on this year's Labelexpo. The event is scheduled for September 11-14, 2023 in Brussels. Labelexpo Europe 2023 serves a platform for industry professionals to unveil their latest innovations, attracting a diverse audience of experts from all corners of the globe. Folex is looking forward to demonstrate its expertise in coating technology onto a wide range of substrate types and thickness grades.

At the event, Folex will present its diverse selection of ink receptive coatings, optimized for high-speed inkjet, toner, and HP Indigo printing systems. These advanced coatings ensure impeccable print quality and vibrant colours, catering to the demands of modern label printing technologies.

The featured base materials at the showcase will include OPP, PE, and PET, providing visitors with a comprehensive understanding of Folex's versatile product offerings.

One of the key highlights of Folex's exhibit at Labelexpo Brussels 2023 will be its focus on environmentally friendly solutions for digital label printing.

We cordially invite all attendees to visit Folex at Stand No. 9C12 during Labelexpo Brussels 2023 and explore the range of coated face films and environmentally friendly label solutions on offer. For more information about Folex and its products, please visit www.folex.com.
